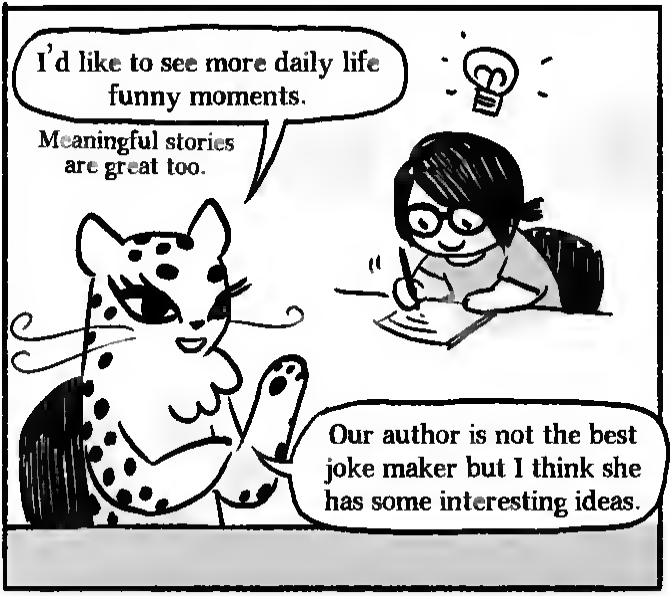
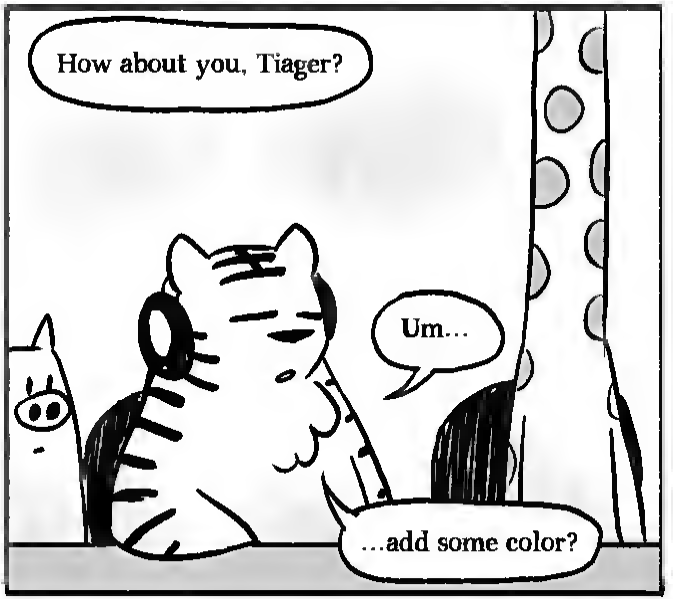
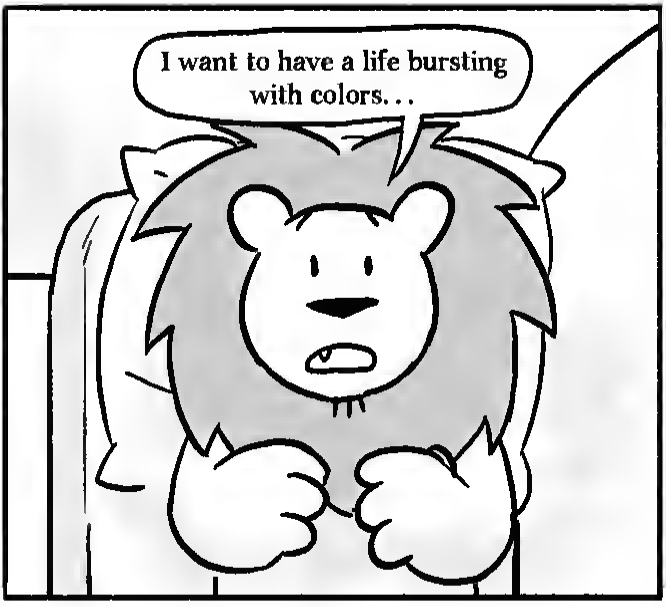
LINE Webtoon



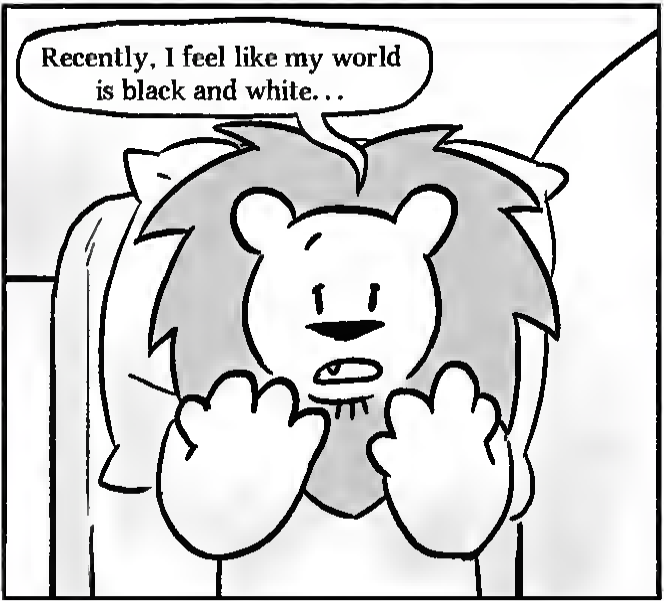
I'd like to see more daily life funny moments.
Meaningful stories are great too.
Our author is not the best joke maker but I think she has some interesting ideas.



How about you, Tiager?
Um...
...add some color?



I want to have a life bursting with colors...



Recently, I feel like my world is black and white...

Alright guys,
hit me with your ideas!

Our colored episodes will look prettier, but they will be shorter because it takes more time to color.
Yeah, Bonnie isn't drawing RSJ full-time.

We can try to test her limits

Yeah, I know... I wonder if there's anything we can do to improve.
We don't know how many readers we have.
Maybe we are losing readers, or we are just getting less response.

Alright, shall we go through your performance in the past few months?

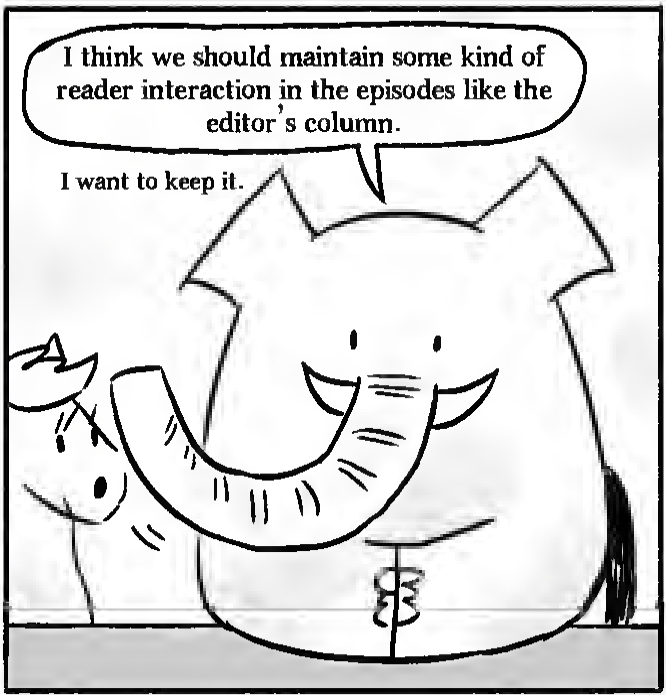
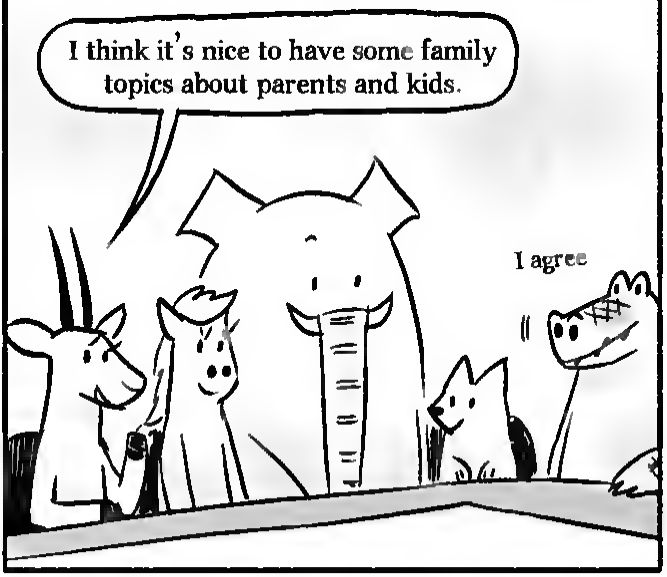
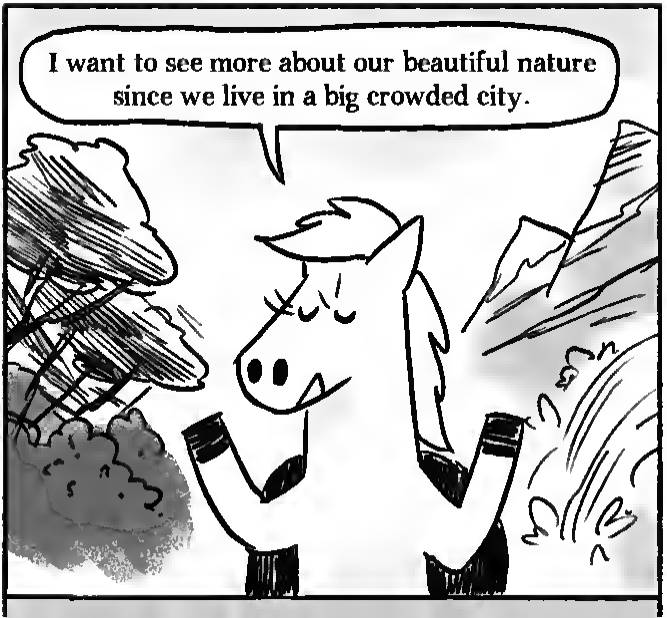
However, it seems like there is a decreasing trend in the number of likes.



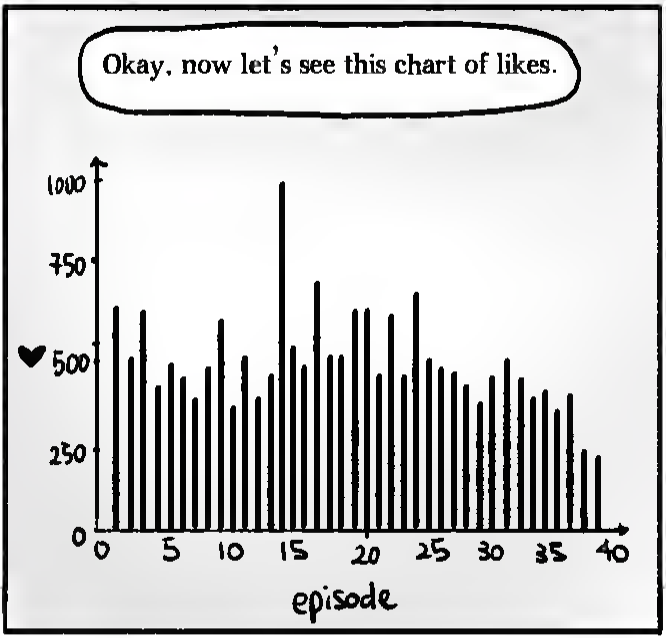
I think we should maintain some kind of reader interaction in the episodes like the editor's column.
I want to keep it.



I think it's nice to have some family topics about parents and kids.
I agree



I want to see more about our beautiful nature since we live in a big crowded city.



Okay, now let's see this chart of likes.

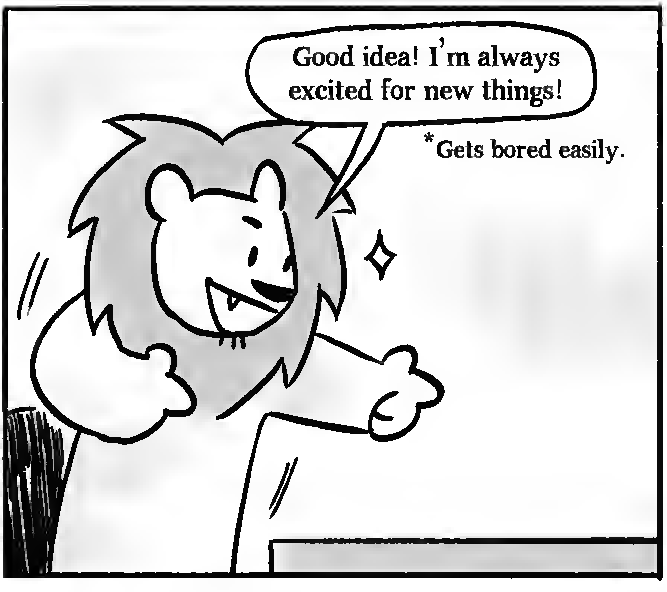
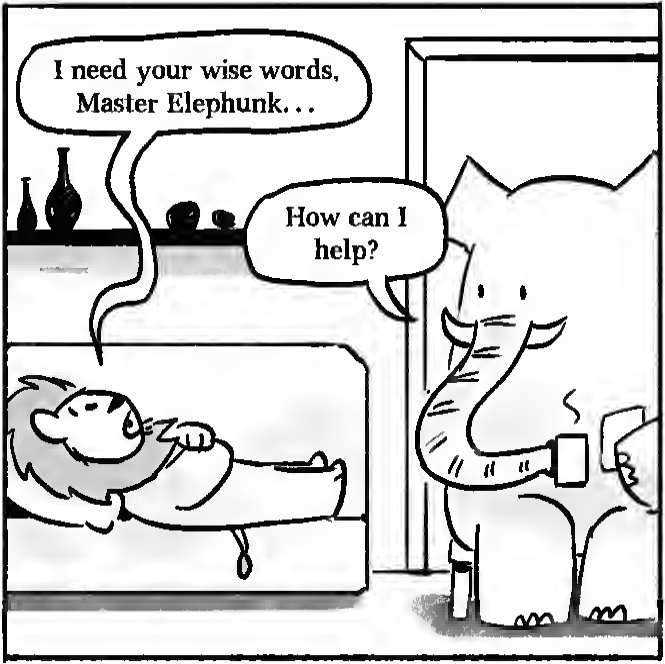
How about we try something new?
Such as new themes and activities?



Good idea! I'm always excited for new things!
*Gets bored easily.



I need your wise words, Master Elephunk...
How can I help?
